How does this link to GROW?

W: recognising the positive and negative impact of changes over time

Subject Specific Vocabulary:

transport	Methods used to move people or items from one place to another.
trade	The buying and selling of goods and services.
timeline	A list of events in the order that they happened.
advancement	Developing something to make it better.

Key knowledge:

The earliest forms of transport were walking and horse and cart.

The development of docks and canals for transport purposes created trade links with other countries and allowed goods to be moved around the country.

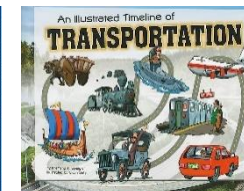

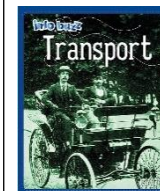

The introduction of rail transport saw a reduction in the use of canals, as rail travel was quicker and more reliable.

People now use cars, planes and ships because it is quicker and they can travel further.

What I've learnt previously:

A timeline can be used to put things from the past in the order they happened.

This will help me to:

Organise the changes in transport methods using a timeline.
